

CZĘŚĆ PIERWSZA | Przeczytaj tekst i wybierz poprawną odpowiedź.

The debate over the use of standardized testing in education

Standardized testing has been a contentious issue in education for many years. While some argue that it is a useful tool for measuring student achievement and assessing teacher effectiveness, others believe that it is an inaccurate and unfair way to evaluate student progress. The debate over the use of standardized testing in education is complex and multi-faceted, with valid arguments on both sides.

Proponents of standardized testing argue that it provides a way to measure student achievement and progress in a standardized manner. This allows teachers and schools to identify areas where students need additional support and tailor instruction accordingly. Additionally, it allows for comparisons between schools and districts, which can help to identify areas of excellence and areas that need improvement.

On the other hand, opponents of standardized testing argue that it does not accurately measure student learning or teacher effectiveness. They argue that the tests are often designed to measure a narrow range of skills and knowledge, and that they do not take into account other important factors such as creativity, critical thinking, and problem-solving. Additionally, standardized testing can put undue stress on students and create an atmosphere of competition rather than collaboration.

Another criticism of standardized testing is that it can perpetuate inequities in education. Students from disadvantaged backgrounds, including those with disabilities, English language learners, and those living in poverty, are often at a disadvantage when it comes to standardized testing. This is because the tests do not take into account the unique challenges that these students may face, such as language barriers or limited access to educational resources.

Despite these criticisms, standardized testing remains a prominent feature of education in many countries. However, there are efforts underway to reform the use of standardized testing and find new ways to measure student progress and teacher effectiveness. These efforts include the use of alternative assessments, such as project-based learning and portfolios, as well as a renewed emphasis on individualized instruction and teacher collaboration.

In conclusion, the debate over the use of standardized testing in education is likely to continue for the foreseeable future. While proponents argue that it provides a useful tool for measuring student achievement and progress, opponents argue that it is an inaccurate and unfair way to evaluate student learning and teacher effectiveness. Ultimately, the goal of education should be to ensure that all students have the opportunity to succeed and reach their full potential, and finding the right balance between standardized testing and other forms of assessment is an important part of achieving that goal.

1 What are some potential negative consequences of using standardized testing in education?

- A Improved teacher effectiveness
B Perpetuation of educational inequities
C Increased student creativity
D Enhanced problem-solving skills

2 How might standardized testing put undue stress on students?

- A By fostering a collaborative learning environment
B By promoting critical thinking skills
C By creating a competitive atmosphere
D By emphasizing individualized instruction

3 What are some potential alternative assessments to standardized testing?

- A Teacher evaluations
B Multiple-choice quizzes
C Project-based learning
D Standardized writing prompts

4 What are some of the criticisms of standardized testing in terms of its ability to measure student learning?

- A It is too broad and measures too many skills
B It is too narrow and only measures a limited range of skills
C It puts too much emphasis on creativity and critical thinking
D It is too subjective and varies from teacher to teacher

5 How might standardized testing perpetuate inequities in education?

- A By providing equal opportunities for all students
B By taking into account unique challenges faced by disadvantaged students
C By measuring a broad range of skills and knowledge
D By not taking into account the unique challenges faced by disadvantaged students

6 Choose the correct verb form to complete the sentence:

I (already / see) that movie twice.

- A have already seen B had already seen C will already see D would have already seen

7 Choose the correct form of the present perfect tense: She (study) for three hours.

- A has studied B had studied C will study D is studying

8 Which modal verb fits best in the sentence? I stay up late tonight.

- A can B could C should D would

9 Which sentence describes a person's appearance?

- A She is always late for work. C They like to watch movies on weekends.
B He has long curly hair and blue eyes. D We ate pizza for dinner yesterday.

10 I found it hard to living in the countryside.

- A am used to B get used to C used to D use to 11 I can't help you. I speak very Spanish.

- A few B little C less D many

12 If I had prepared it yesterday morning, I more time in the afternoon.

- A will have B would have C would have had D would had 13 Which sentence describes an action in progress in the future?

- A She will study for her exam. C They have studied for their exam already.
B He studied for his exam last night. D We are going to study for our exam tomorrow.

14 Didn't you prepare many hot dogs?

- A such B so C very D too

15 Veronica was a good students that she got a scholarship.

- A a lot of B many C much D such 16 I don't you have heard the news.

- A remind B remember C suppose D tend to 17 Choose the form of the given word to complete the quote by George Carlin.

"Dusting is a good example of the (FUTILE) of trying to put things right. As soon as you dust, the fact of your next dusting has already been established"

- A futilism B futileness C futility D fute

18 Which sentence describes a person's character?

- A She has a long face and a big nose. C They love to travel to exotic places.
B He is honest, hardworking, and loyal. D We enjoy reading books in our free time.

19 Choose the correct form of the verb to complete the sentence:

Next year, I (travel) to Europe for the first time.

- A will travel B have traveled C am traveling D would travel

20 A balanced diet will give you requirements in all the right proportions.

- A enriched B enriching C nutritious D nutritional